plotted together how best to get rid of Smith.

Several attempts were made upon his life, each failing, until the morning of September 25, while Smith was eating his morning meal at an early hour, Casteel crept close to his cabin and fired a shot-gun through a crevice, tearing away Smith's lower jaw and two forefingers of his right hand. # JANZOW WITNESS AGAIN COLLAPSES

Henry W. Mueller, Octogenarian Defendant in Pastor's Damage Suit.

CLAIMS LOSS OF $300,000.

Minister's Attorney Promises Some Sensational Developments Concerning Alleged Conspiracy.

For the second time in as many weeks Henry F. Mueller of No. 2824 North Eleventh street, millionaire, and the oldest of the eighteen members of the Bethlehem Evangelical Lutheran Church, who are being sued by the pastor, Charles L. Janrow, for conspiracy and defamation of character, collapsed while in the witness hair yesterday about noon and had to be taken to his home. The ninth day of the deposition before Commissioner Higginbotham in room 509 of the Rallway Exchange building was then adjourned and, upon the agreement of the attorneys for cither side, the aged defendant will be allowed to take a rest in the country until he recuperates his strength sufficiently to stand the cross-examination of the plaintin's attorney.

The dramatic scene of yesterday in many respects resembled that of the former hearing when the defendant suddenly complained of pains in the head, and had to be excused. It was during the severe ex-amination to which he had been subjected by Attorney Smith that the witness's endurance completely falled him The plaintiff's attorney had apparently attempted to show that the six persons who alleged they lost $200,000 in a transaction in which the preacher's advice figured preponderantly had, in reality, not lost anything. It was during these crucial questions leading up to the transaction, following the loan of the money to Frederick Schwartz, that Mr. Mudler suddenly threw up his hands and begged his attorney to allow him to be excused. Attorney Smith, the plaintiff's lawyer, seeing

He declared that members of the Bethlehem Church lost upwards of $200,000, and that the six principal loars were Conrad Kellerman, a contractor; Henry Tiemeyer, a carpet dealer; A. H. Trompa, a farmer; Jacob Hauelsen, a commission merchant: Charles F. Lange, a china and glass dealer, and himself. Mr. Mueller declared that he advanced the plaintiff the sum of $50,000 at one time.

"Did others lose money, too?" asked Attorney Smith.
"Yes; but I do not konw how much the others lost, as Schwartz borrowed money from everybody.

"Did you, when you made this charge, know that others besides the six had lost money?"

SAYS PASTOR MEDDLED. "Then you, as a business man, wanted the congregation to believe that you had gone into this business of lending Schwartz money on the sole representations of the paster, laying aside your business experience and sense of many

"How did he 'meddle'?"
"Pastor Janzow came to my house and asked me to help Schwarts. I declined at first. Schwartz then came, and I could not see where there was any benefit attached to the deal. Then Pastor Janzow came again and then Schwartz's wife began writing me letters, and they kept this un."
